THE ART OF SLOW LIVING

At a glance, you might say Oradea is Art Nouveau. But if you look deeper, listen, and feel, you'll notice Oradea is also Life Nouveau, a Family City with the perks of a Slow-living City.

This city is about a life lived in safety, with serenity, a wide smile on your face and a full taste of everything you love. How do we feel in Oradea? European, civilized, exceptionally safe, a bit bourgeois, friendly, wide open, empathetic, a little introvert, calm, tolerant, even a little romantic, and sometimes – bored out of too much beautiful. Usually, people come here for „art nouveau”, „ but stay for „life nouveau”.

ABOUT COFFEE, MEET & GREET

#NoStressEurope

Oradea is a city of the world – a chosen place – that gives a complete summary of the respectful bond between the past and the future in a way that only exquisite cities know how. Oradea was and still is the living legacy of many kings. Oradea also is and will be the city of a visionary future as the city of Life Nouveau. Verily, Life Nouveau has its roots in the intricacies of the beautifully restored buildings, but its influence seeps into every pore of Oradea's lifestyle.

Oradea may teach you how to (slow) live

Oradea can be a weekend destination but also so much more.

It's a destination where people – both tourists and locals – manage to slow live. Even if you're in a hurry, this city quickly helps you adapt to its laid-back vibe and luxuriant spirit. It is the place where you can meander through winding roads, dine, drink, dance and return home in full comfort and safety.

MIXING THE PAST GENERATION AND FUTURE OF FOOD

When it comes to this new lifestyle, we instantly think about places – going out places - new places. But let's not forget about the people before us, the ones that made it all possible.

Some brave young entrepreneurs from Oradea reshaped the culinary scene but maintained a respectful connection to the history which unpins Oradea. Their passion for heritage fuels their new unique stories. Food, being an inherently emotive experience, has always had the power to build communities from locals and visitors alike. So, here are some stories made possible by the talented, creative and hard-working people of Oradea.

Boasting over 150 restaurants – from a quick bite to a fancy dinner – Oradea offers one thing for sure bountiful options. Let's not forget that we're talking about a city with important Hungarian, German and Romanian culinary influences inherited from its rich historical past. Here, these traditions have uniquely fused into a new sustainable food movement with local and seasonal ingredients. One aspect of the Oradea's gastronomy scene that has recently started to burgeon is fine dining. Oradea is well represented in the top of the Dining Guide, boasting internationally famous chefs.
